Fiaker goes on the loose in Vienna

Vienna Times – 4/9/2012

Two Fiaker horses took off with their carriage and went on the loose from their stand in Vienna city centre.

The two horses fled from their owner at Vienna's Heldenplatz - they managed to get to Michaelerplatz before they were stopped.

Nobody was injured in the event, but one of the horses has a slight foot injury.

According to police the Fiaker driver was at the stand at around 7.30pm on Easter Sunday and was about to leave for the day when the two horses were startled by a passing car. The owner tried to stop the horses but the horses fled with their harnesses and their carriage attached through the city centre.

The horses and carriage were stopped when one of the horses tripped and police could stop the animals and bring them to safety.

Nobody was injured.
